

MEDIA ADVISORY

OFFICE OF COUNTY MAYOR GLENN JACOBS

400 Main Street, Suite 615, Knoxville, TN 37902

Mayor Jacobs: Home Builders Association Donates Trade Based Books to Knox County Schools

WHEN: 8:15 a.m. on Tuesday, Dec. 20, 2022

WHERE: Sunnyview Primary School, 412 Bagwell Road, Knoxville, 37924

BACKGROUND: Knox County Mayor Glenn Jacobs will read, “Someone Builds the Dream,” by Lisa Wheeler and Lauren Long to Sunnyview Primary students in celebration as the Home Builders Association of Greater Knoxville donates trade based books to Knox County Schools.

Knox County Schools Superintendent Dr. Jon Rysewyk will be on hand to accept the donations of “Someone Builds the Dream” by Lisa Wheeler and Lauren Long, and “The House that She Built” by Mollie Elkman and Georgia Castellano, from Home Builders Association of Greater Knoxville President Nathan Anderson. All Knox County Elementary School Libraries will receive a copy of each book.

The books encourage the growth of individual skills, focusing on science, technology, math, and the arts, while contributing to the overall growth of a project. Both books are trade based, and goal oriented giving students an opportunity to learn about new skills and foster confidence for future career exploration.

For more information contact:

Mike Donila
306-1177 cell

Abbey Harris
215-4579 office
705-1681 cell

###